DFA Design for Asia Awards 2017 – Grand Award

Vibram Furoshiki The Wrapping Sole

Winning Company: Vibram S.P.A.

Italy

Drawing inspiration from the eponymous traditional Japanese wrapping cloth used to transport carefully prepared bento boxes, gifts for loved ones, or even commercial goods, the Vibram Furoshiki The Wrapping Sole is a revolutionary new footwear that literally wraps around your feet, enabling the most anatomically tailored fit and support possible.

The design focus was placed on unifying shoes sizes. And with the Italian-designed Eurojersey elastic fabric strips extending out from the dynamically structured Vibram XS City compound sole are instrumental to ensuring comfort and support.

The Edible Business Card

Winning Company: Geometry Global Japan

Japan

The Saga Prefecture on Kyushu Island is the national leader of seaweed aquaculture. Nonetheless, many Japanese do not seem to know the provenance of their seaweed. In order to reinforce the image of Saga as the national leader of seaweed, making a business card out of a sheet of seaweed was finalised as the ultimate and unique marketing tool. For this daring and unprecedented attempt, the city had enlisted engineers who spent 2 months to try out laser cutting technology on seaweed. Both thinning and cutting were thoroughly experimented in order to create artwork, characters, numbers, and letters of the alphabet for the card's contents.

Open House at Central Embassy / Thailand

Winning Company: Klein Dytham architecture

Japan

Open House, a self-described village of spaces, including a bookstore, bars, lounges, restaurants, a children's zone, co-working spaces, pop-ups, stores, and an art tower. It is an integrated lifestyle space that cater to various needs, and its dramatic juxtaposition of double height ceilings and amenities built on a human scale makes it a space where people want to work and stay for long. Instead of the box-like retail spaces, Open House's businesses coalesce around the bookstore. Visitors are free to browse, or sit down to enjoy a good read, or perhaps to enjoy a coffee or a meal when they feel like refueling.

Agri-Chapel / Japan

Winning Company: Momoeda Yu Architecture Office

Japan

As people enter the Agri-Chapel, their eyeballs will assuredly be riveted by its intricate space frame truss work. The work evokes the pointed arches and rib vaults of the Oura Catholic Church, Nagasaki's Roman Catholic Basilica, which is believed to be Japan's oldest. There are three layers of pillars. The bottom layer consists of four pillars, and each of which branches out to form eight diagonal frames. Made mainly out of lumber, the frames are reinforced with steel rods. Immense glass walls on all four sides of the chapel brings natural lights in, and as the natural landscape is clearly visible throughout the open floor plan.

kaleidoscopic ivy - SOGETSU 90TH ANNIVERSARY AKANE TESHIGAHARA SOLO EXHIBITION "HANA SO" - / Japan

Winning Company: nendo + onndo

Japan

For Master Akane Teshigahara's solo exhibition to celebrate Sogetsu School's 90th Anniversary, designer created a design that playfully yet elegantly drew people, ikebana, and the venue into one integral space.

The design is a bold departure from tradition as it features a large-scale ivy-like installation of myriad of mirrors overlaying a stone garden, created by the late landscape architect Isamu Noguchi. Dubbed the "Ivy of mirrors," each leaf was individually fitted to the vine. These 40,000 metallic ivy leaves reflect the colours, figures, textures of both the stone garden and the ikebana works, and also the visitors, creating a kaleidoscopic effect.

Redefining the District - Thailand Creative & Design Center / Thailand

Winning Company: Thailand Creative & Design Center

Thailand

Starting from May 2017, the Thailand Creative and Design Center (TCDC) has moved to the Grand Postal Building signals a creative direction for Thailand. The Center reconnects the design and creative communities with the historical riverfront road and neighbourhood.

The repurposed building boasts over 9,000 m<sup>2</sup>, in which six functional zones engage the TCDC's users and visitors and provide them with what they need to help wean Thailand off its dependence on low labour costs and low-end service industry jobs. The building's rooftop is transformed into a garden, giving users a much needed space to relax and get their creative juices flowing again.

Mobike Classic

Winning Company: Mobike

Mainland China

Mobike is the world's first and largest smart bike-sharing company. Its mission is to bring more bikes to more cities, using its innovative technology to make cycling the most convenient and environmentally-friendly transport choice for urban residents. Using specially designed bikes equipped with GPS and proprietary smart-lock technology, Mobike enables users of its smartphone app to find a bike near them, reserve and unlock it.

In the first year of operation, there were more than five million smart bicycles making 20 million rides every day in over 150 cities. Mobike users have collectively reduced CO2 emissions by as much as 610,000 tonnes.

YEV

Winning Company: Yamaha Corporation

Japan

Yamaha's latest electric violin, the YEV series, combines superb playability with a stunningly beautiful and revolutionary design that is guaranteed to stun audiences from any angle. Inspired from the organic beauty of wood and the simplicity of clean lines, the YEV series combines the comfort of ergonomic design with Yamaha's innovations into a truly gorgeous live-performance instrument.

By analysing the acoustic sound of prototypes and different materials, and then refining the design according to feedback, Yamaha was able to pinpoint the essential elements for functionality and playability, and restructure the composition in a violin that eliminated the instrument's resonance chamber.

DFA Design for Asia Awards 2017 – Grand Award & Grand Award for Technology

Xperia Touch

Winning Company: Sony Mobile Communications Inc. & Sony Corporation

Japan

The Xperia Touch liberates users from competing for a tablet's screen space. Through opening up the display surface, a small group of users, be them family, friends, or colleagues, may now see the projected content and even act on it together without the use of consoles, mice, or keyboards. The Xperia Touch has a human ring to it: using one's own fingers or palm on the projected image is not only easier and more engaging, but the communal bond created by sharing the virtual screen, completing a task, and playing a game together with one's own hands also brings the individuals closer.

DFA Design for Asia Awards 2017 – Grand Award for Culture

Malaysia Design Archive

Winning Company: Malaysia Design Archive

Malaysia

Honouring the nation’s design legacy by means of digitisation and education improves access to a rich visual heritage that helps build a cultural identity. Malaysia Design Archive was established to empower creative professionals, scholars, and the public to draw on this visual history in order to pave the way for the future of Malaysian future. The online platform and repository of past designs, whether they be packaging, print advertisements, matchboxes, photographs, postcards, posters, newspapers, comic series, or magazines, are organised into collections and periods. The online presence and offline space help mediate between these artefacts and the design scene that serve today’s needs and society.

DFA Design for Asia Awards 2017 – Grand Award for Sustainability

Smog Free Project / Mainland China

Winning Company: Studio Roosegaarde

Netherlands

During one of Daan Roosegaarde’s visit to Beijing, the ancient capital was blanketed in a severe episode of smog and haze, allowing the artist to experience the first hand environmental impact on people of all ages and from all walks of life. Taking cues from ionic air purifiers now popular for household use, Roosegaarde proposes a quicker fix. With the patented positive ionization technology, the Smog Free tower is proven to trap and remove up to 70% of PM10 and 50% of PM2.5 from the air that flows through the filter. The smog particles are then compressed and turned into a Smog Free Ring.
